

BE A LIVESTOCK SHOW MEDIA INTERN at the 2018 North American International Livestock Exposition.

Are you a writer, photographer, social media guru or livestock enthusiast interested in new experiences and sharpening your media coverage skills? Apply for the 2018 North American International Livestock Exposition Media Internship.

- Interns responsibilities include:
  - Attending livestock shows and events
  - Writing human interest stories and producing videos
  - Generating social media content and managing digital platforms
  - Capturing around the grounds and ring candid

- Two individuals will be selected to cover the livestock show from November 9 to November 13.

- Interns will receive a $500 scholarship and experiences that simply can't be gained in a classroom.

- Internship specifics:
  - Applicants must be enrolled as a college undergraduate.
  - A personal laptop and digital camera is required.
  - Lodging will be provided, as well as some meals.

APPLY TODAY! College undergraduates should apply by emailing their cover letter, résumé and two work samples (one writing and one photography) to Kylee Deniz at kdeniz@pork.org by September 21. Selected interns will be notified mid-October.